This is a detailed cadastral map of a rural area in Japan. The map shows numerous land parcels, each labeled with a unique number, often followed by a suffix indicating a sub-plot (e.g., 1-1, 2-2). The parcels are irregularly shaped and are separated by thin black lines. A prominent, thicker black line runs diagonally across the map, likely representing a major road or a boundary between different administrative areas. The map is divided into several sections by these lines. In the upper left, the name '福住町' (Fukuzumi) is written in Japanese characters. In the center, the name '山田町' (Yamada) is written. In the lower left, the name '福住町' (Fukuzumi) is written again. The map also shows some smaller, less distinct labels like '9859' and '112'. The overall layout is a complex network of land parcels, with some areas appearing more densely packed than others. The map is oriented with North at the top.
